BANQUET HONORING NATIONAL PRESIDENT WAR VET. AUXILIARY

Mrs. Lou Ella Allen is Guest of Honor at Largely-Attended Affair—D. Ross of Jackson, Master of Ceremonies; Present Mayor G. Y. Blaize and Former Mayor Charles Traub Address Gathering.

The largest and most sumptuous affair honoring Mrs. Lou Ella Allen, National President of the United Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary, on a visit of several days to the Coast was the banquet tendered Mrs. Allen on Friday night at Hotel Reed when a large number of persons prominent in Auxiliary work throughout the state were present, with representatives from Jackson, Wiggins, Perkinston, Hattiesburg, Biloxi, Gulfport, New Orleans and Bay St. Louis.

C. D. Ross, of Jackson, was master of ceremonies and the address of welcome was given by Mayor G. Y. Blaize. Charles Traub, Sr., represented the Commander of the Department for Mississippi. James K. Kneec, Commander and Mrs. Kneec, president of the Auxiliary of Gulfport, Captain J. W. Peairs, Major E. A. Hiller, Manager, Captain E. J. Sacks, Domiciliary Officer, and John M. Leonard, Recreation Aid, all of Biloxi, Facility, and Dr. George Melvin, Manager and Dr. Isham Kimball, Clinical Director of the Gulfport Hospital and Mrs. Sarah Gossett, President of the Department of Louisiana Auxiliary of Spanish War Veterans of Monroe, La., were all prominent guests at the banquet. Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, and Mrs. Margaret Hogan, Department President of Mississippi were the organization representatives for Bay St. Louis.

Besides the banquet, Mrs. Allen spoke on Thursday night at the Methodist Church. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Allen paid an official visit to the Veterans Facility in Gulfport when she was shown about the buildings and grounds of the Facility by Dr. George Melvin, manager and personally contacted a large number of the veterans.

On Friday, Mrs. Allen visited the Veterans Facility at Biloxi and expressed great pleasure over the splendid manner in which the veterans are cared for and the wonderful facilities provided for them and the keen interest manifested in the inmates by the different Coast auxiliaries. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Margaret Hogan were luncheon guests on Friday at the Facility when Major E. A. Hiller, Manager, introduced the visitors, who were presented with lovely bouquets of roses grown in the Facility's nursery on behalf of the members and patients. Mrs. Allen addressed the veterans in the auditorium stating in part that "Service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy," and commented the work of Mrs. Margaret Hogan, State president, stating that the work accomplished in Mississippi was outstanding.

On Saturday, the Admiral Thomas P. Magruder Auxiliary of Biloxi held a meeting at the Community House and afterwards entertained Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Hogan at a luncheon at a popular Coast resort, along with Mrs. Schilling, and Mrs. Charles Traub, and a number of distinguished visitors. After the luncheon, Mrs. Allen was taken on a motor tour of interesting places on the Coast.

Mrs. Allen, although having resided at Ennis, Texas, for a number of years, is a native of Mississippi, and besides being prominent in auxiliary work and serving as national president for the past eight years, is also a member of the Ennis Chamber of Commerce, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the McDonald Music Club of Ennis, and her name appears in the book, "Who's Who in Texas."

ROTARY HEARS NEW DIST.-GOV.

Local Business Men's Club Hears Hon. Ellis Wright, Of Jackson.

Wednesday was quite an eventful day for the Rotary members of the Bay St. Louis club at Hotel Reed. A hundred percent meeting and a number of special guests greeted the Hon. Ellis Wright, Rotary District Governor for south half Mississippi (excluding the Mississippi river section) who was here on an official two-day visit to the Bay St. Louis club.

This is the 141 District of International Rotary and containing 41 clubs. Of this number District-Gov. Wright has already visited 31. He gives each club, at least a full 24-hour visit through in his work and is perhaps one of the hardest-working and most conscientious district heads this section has ever had.

He is a resident of Jackson and his classification is funeral director. While here he was guest of Hotel Reed and of President Jessie Gray. Tuesday night he met with members of the board of directors and reports of the meeting were fruitful of much result and plans for the immediate future of the club's expansion was discussed and adopted.

His talk Wednesday to the club was inspirational and he told of the value of Rotary to the individual as well as the collective membership. He said he was not trying to make over Rotary, that it was not his intention to make over the universe, as it were, but he was satisfied to do his own small job and try and do it well; that every member should feel the same way, to do his best even though it was in measured proportion. "Service above self" and "he serves best who serves most" are mottos of Rotary, and to these he called attention before he had closed his address.

He quoted these lines from David Grayson: "I haven't got to make over the universe, I only have to do my own small job and look up often at the trees and the hills and the sky and be friendly with all men."

The highlight of the social season for the students of St. Stanislaus is set for Wednesday, November 22. The Harvest Ball this year is a week in advance to that of last year. This is the fifth annual Ball celebrated at St. Stanislaus.

The Mothers' Club of St. Stanislaus met Friday in the gymnasium to discuss and outline plans for the sponsorship of the dance. In the past, the Club has been indispensable in arranging all the necessary things to make the Harvest Ball the most colorful of all events.

The colors for the decoration of the gym have not been decided yet, but that point is considered as a minor detail. Following the custom, however, the stage of the gym will be decorated in Harvest fashion. The senior class is usually in charge of the decorations and a colorful array of trimmings and appropriate colors is expected to be the result of their work. The seniors showed their ability in decorating purposes, last year when they staged the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Harvest Ball is not complete without the Queen and King. Originally, the students elected the most popular girl in Bay St. Louis, and she, in turn, selected the King. However, that was changed three years ago, since most of the students were not acquainted very well with the girls in the Bay. The elections now are for the king, who is usually a senior. The student receiving the highest number of votes becomes King, and he has the right to choose his Queen. The second highest in votes, becomes the Duke of Honor. There is also a court of fifteen dukes and maids.

There has not been a Harvest Ball in the past which has not been a huge success. For this reason, it has become the most talked of event of the year.

Selling of votes is now in full swing.

BAY GARDENS HAVE VARIETY OF AZALEA AND CAMELLIA PLANTS

For Sale and Delivery—Now Is Time to Replenish and Add to Home Gardens.

Within a short time the gardens of the Gulf Coast will be revelling in the rare beauty of the Camellia japonica and the riotous and vibrant colors of the azalea—both original products of the flowery kingdom of Japan.

Bay-Waveland and other gardens in the county and adjacent territory are rich in many specimens, but the true garden owner and lover of flowers has too many of these valuable plants—valuable for the reason the longer the camellia and azalea, particularly the former grow, the more they enhance in beauty and acquire true value; in point of size and intrinsic value.

This year will prove no exception. The garden lover will respond to that urge—to acquire more plants and variety and incidentally add to the desirability and value of his premises, even at a sale price.

Hence, it behooves one and all, and seems but natural, one would not only wish to acquire the better stock of plants, but the kind grown in Bay St. Louis, soil, become acclimated and that has stood the test of local soil and varying climatic conditions.

Such plants are procurable in Bay St. Louis at Mogabgab's "Bay Gardens," on South Beach boulevard, where there are thousands in fine, healthy condition, all sizes, ready for sale and delivery.

One sees here his purchases, and has the advantage of expert opinion, the nurseryman in charge, a soil and horticulturist graduate (University of Missouri), who will examine garden soil, suggest correction for faulty conditions and give other expert opinion for the growth and care of plants and how to procure the maximum results.

The Bay Gardens are now ready to supply the market, in addition to camellias and azaleas, roses, shrub and other plants.

It is wise to buy from the home nursery, from people who are known reliable, dependable. In the event there should be a comeback, one may always find adjustment easy. It pays in more ways than one to buy at home.

Plantation where Washington spent his boyhood will be sold.

Exports to Latin America have outstripped imports since '14.

SATURDAY'S PARADE AND RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

SPONSORED by Hancock County Post, American Legion, Bay St. Louis plans to stage a monster parade Saturday morning, Armistice Day, beginning at 11 o'clock.

This is a patriotic gesture. It will also serve a double purpose. On this date and at this time the annual Red Cross Roll Call will be inaugurated. The call will continue from Saturday to the designated day of conclusion.

In this way it is hoped to bring about a consciousness to every citizen to make his or her contribution of at least one membership to the Red Cross. In this way the Legion Post is sponsoring the call and will give it in this wise a tremendous moral support.

Saturday is a legal holiday. Every business house that can do so is requested to let its employees join in the parade, to participate in the observance of the celebration of Armistice. This is not a holiday for holiday pastime. But is one to serve a specific purpose.

The Sea Coast Echo solidly supports the patriotic gesture on the part of the Legionnaires and the purpose of the Roll Call. This parade will be representative, it will be to represent a principle and to serve a purpose. Our people will regard it as such and they will prove responsive to the call.

A GREAT INSTITUTION FOR THE SOUTH.

CITY Commissioner H. Grady Perkins was speaker before the Memphis (Tenn.) Rotary Club Tuesday an invited and honored guest and for the occasion according to press reports, a large group of members and citizens were present.

City Commissioner Perkins had been specially invited. He had been a patient of Dr. Campbell's clinic for crippled at Memphis for many months and his cure and recovery of use of his limb was no less than a miracle. And hundreds of such cases are reported from time to time by the good work Dr. Campbell and his staff are performing. This work is sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Tennessee Mississippi and adjoining territory and no finer work could the club sponsor.

Mr. Perkins was benefitted by the marvelous work of the hospital to the extent that where he was formerly bed-ridden for many months he is now able to walk and is back in circulation and able to resume his daily pursuit.

He told the Memphis Club, chief sponsor for the results achieved in his favor, of the great accomplishment; of the lasting favor he had received, and, grateful, he appeared Tuesday and told its members of the obligation and his gratitude.

EXTRAVAGANT OLD AGE PENSIONS.

WHILE there seems to be no reason to suspect that logic or statistics will dim the ardor of those who advocate generous pensions for the aged, it should not be forgotten that under the Federal Social Security Act, persons over sixty-five in need can receive pensions towards which the Federal Government will contribute half, up to $40.00 a month. In a short while, persons over sixty-five, even though not in need, will begin to receive the benefits of the Federal Old-Age Annuities. These payments may not be as large as those promised by various schemes but they are more certain.

The proposed beneficiaries of extravagant pension schemes will do well to weigh the results that will follow a breakdown of the schemes. An old-age pension law that exceeds the ability of a State to pay will inevitably collapse and the condition of the aged in such a case, will be worse than before. While thoroughly convinced of the justice of old-age pensions, we believe that the amounts to be paid should be kept low enough to guarantee the permanency of the scheme. In time, if economic conditions warrant larger pensions, they will be forthcoming.

DEMOCRACY NOT WIDESPREAD.

THE people of the United States have the idea that democracy is making great strides in the Western Hemisphere but the fact is that, with the exception of the United States and Canada, and perhaps one or two smaller nations, the governments of this hemisphere are not democratic in the least.

This condition arises in part because the people of many of the Central and South American nations are not qualified for democracy. The government of the people have sense enough to make it function. In view of the difficulties that we experience in securing good government there is no wonder that democracy is only an idea in nations where illiteracy is widespread.

BUSINESS AND WAR.

WILLIAM S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corporation, says that the theory that business men "like to see war come so they can make a pot of money out of it" is a "shameful and false assumption."

This is probably the truth, especially in view of what happened to profits in this country after the last war. As Mr. Knudsen says, the corporations and individuals who make profit out of war are not as numerous as those who don't. He is positive that his own company, often singled out as a "war baby" cannot make money out of a war because the losses of the regular business world offset any gains from war orders.

FOR OIL ON MISSISSIPPI COAST.

REPORTS made to the State of Mississippi regarding failure to find indications of oil formations in the west portion of Mississippi Sound might prove disappointing, but this is not regarded as final.

Geophysical work will continue over in the Biloxi area of the Mississippi Sound for another six-month period and while it is not probable it is possible indications there might be more hopeful.

There seems to be no definite basis for sounding or searching for oil only by the location of formation of soil and rock associated with localities where oil might exist.

It is well known gas well after well has been brought in at Jackson and vicinity, yet no oil was found. At Yazoo City, where no oil was expected to exist, two or three wells of paying commercial supplies are found and a boom that one can well imagine has struck that section of the county.

Failure to find indications that would lead to the drilling for oil in the waters of Mississippi Sound proves a disappointment, but to the many along the east coast section where the proposed drilling was bitterly opposed, it might prove welcome. It was pointed out that if oil in sufficient production was found in the waters both the fishing industry and the tourist business for bathing would be killed, and that was worth more to the public in general sense than would the finding of a strata of oil.

This opinion, however, is not shared in by the majority. Our people want the golden fluid to be found in this section. It is pointed out it would revolutionize this section and the industry would add untold millions to land values and to the channel of general commerce.

That both gas and oil have already been found in Mississippi holds much encouragement to the public and it is well that the project is not abandoned but with commendable enterprise the quest for petroleum lakes and streams beneath our soil continues. Only time will tell.

AFRAID OF HURTING SOMEBODY.

WE have not kept an accurate tabulation of the warnings that have been given the British by German officials but Herr von Ribbentrop keeps up the nonsense by calling for deeds not words to demonstrate to the English what it means to reject the "hand of peace" offered by Herr Hitler.

This is one of the most interesting phases of the entire European situation. The Germans are worried lest the British fail to understand what is in store for them unless they make a quick peace with Nazism. It seems to pain Hitler, and his ministers, that they will have to hurt the stubborn British unless they make peace now.

This concern for the injuries that another people may suffer is in marked contrast to the German attitude toward the Czechs, the Poles and the Spaniards who were bombed by German planes and pilots. It is a new light on the nature of the German Nazis but what it illuminates is the fear that exists in Germany over the war that nobody seems to want to start.

If Hitler and his crowd of butchers had any idea that they could parade into Paris over the dead bodies of a few million French soldiers and as many women and children, they would start the bands playing and the march would be underway. If they had any idea that they could wipe England off the map with an inferno of bombs, they would start dropping them at once without regard to the women and children who might die along with the stubborn British.

The truth of the matter is that what worries Hitler, von Ribbentrop, and their like, is that when the bombs begin to drop they will be falling in two countries, at least, and one of them will be Germany. What gives them twinges of conscience is the fear that before the war is over it may not be the British and the French who suffer the most.

NO MORE SATURDAY BUSINESS.

MERCHANTS and other business folks of communities and smaller cities adjacent to New Orleans territory complain of a dearth of business on Saturdays as a result of big football games in New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

They say these major games attract thousands away from home with the result people with the purchasing power are away and business as a result suffers.

This applies equally to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Saturdays that in former times, were good trading days and towns are now akin somewhat to Goldsmith's deserted village. The bulk of the people are away and much money that might be spent at home finds way into the coffers of business in the big city.

Another cause for killing of Saturday business and why people from the interior come in less numbers to the towns is due, it is said, there is too much Saturday half day closing. Apparently, it looks like pleasure before business.

Country folks are unable to visit during the morning hours; they find the afternoon more convenient. But since all public buildings, banks, and a number of private places of business are closed, they find it somewhat like the Sabbath here and we are told Picayune captures considerable Hancock county trade and Gulfport also gets liberal share.

32,000,000 TURKEYS

REGARDLESS of the date of the month on which you prefer to celebrate Thanksgiving this year, you will have no difficulty in getting a turkey for the big meal. A crop of 32,000,000 turkeys, the largest on record, is reported by the Government for 1939.

Turkey-raisers, however, say that marketing will be smaller this November than last year because the people of the country no longer regard turkey as a holiday food exclusively, but are eating the bird "around the calendar."

This is an interesting development, and to us at least, indicates an advancing civilization. The more turkeys that are placed upon the center of the table, surrounded, of course, by the necessary accessories, and the more often the families of the nation gather around the festive board, the better it will be for the human race.

Hollywood Notes.

TIRED of playing "goody-goody" parts, Shirley Temple is insisting that she be given character roles. Her role as the 'meanie' in "The Bluebird" was so real that she was hissed by everyone on the set, much to Shirley's delight.

Billie Burke has joined Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in "Lover Come Back to Me," their next film scheduled for almost immediate production.

By the way Nelson Eddy's recent withdrawal from his air program is said to have saved his sponsor $4,500 per week—his successor gets only $500 per appearance.

While radio, too, is having an economy wave, Bing Crosby continues to be the highest paid of the movie stars, receiving $7,000 per week for doing his bit over the air. Not bad, eh?

When Joan Bennett changed the color of her tresses from blonde to brunette (via the dye works), she admits that she has also changed her personality to match. Colors formerly suited to her blonde coloring are no longer becoming and her very fair complexion has been suitably tanned to further tone in with her new hair tone.

Gary Cooper will probably play the lead in "Triumph Over Pain," the story by William T. Green Morton, the American dentist and surgeon, who is said to be the first person to give a public demonstration of ether as an anesthetic for pain.

Joel McCrea and Ginger Rogers will be together in "Primrose Path."

The same romantic teams that appeared in "Brother Rat" will be reunited in its sequel, "Brother Rat and the Baby." They are Eddie Albert and Jane Bryan, Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane, Ronald Reagan and Jane Wyman. Ronald and Jane have married since the filming of the original film.

A film on the life of Benjamin Franklin has Montagu Love playing the role of the discoverer of electricity.

Although a wave of strictest economy has rolled over Hollywood, it is estimated that the studios of Hollywood will spend $80,000,000 in the next six months, of which sum actors and actresses will receive $22,000,000.

Ann Sheridan called Hollywood's "soph" girl, is said to have been insured by her studio for $125,000 against disfigurement.

According to MGM officials, the set for the finale of "Broadway Melody of 1940" cost $120,000 to build and its chief feature is a mirror sixty feet square, mounted on a revolving track which swings it around to change the background for the dance numbers.

In filming the life of Thomas Edison, Metro plans two pictures, the first "Young Tom Edison," with Mickey Rooney taking the lead, to be followed by "Edison the Man," with Spencer Tracy in the title role, thus avoiding the inevitable ambiguity which occurs in all pictures which show a youngster suddenly blossoming into a young man, without any apparent resemblance, whatsoever.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

BY DAVID ASSAF.

Of all that God did give me,
When into the world I came,
A heart I do boast proudly,
A soul that bears my name.

My Faith, My Hope, My Love
I owe them all to Thee,
My heart, my soul, above,
Will praise eternally.

I thank Thee for our peace
That Europe has refused,
Cannons, bombs, guns all amiss
A crazy fool induced.

To Thee, Sweet God, I bow
And humbly pray, save us,
And not such strife allow
In these good days of ours.

And seldom do I think
Of all the things I have;
Good health, good food and drink
O low, ungrateful knave!

O Lord above I pray thee
My humble thanks do treat
Thanksgiving Day reminds me
The Sacred Body eat.

CONGRESSMAN COLMER MAKES PLEA FOR NON-PARTISAN EFFORT

To Keep America Out of War—Sane and Clean-Cut Expression on Subject.

In a speech before the House in defense of the rule for consideration of the neutrality bill, Representative Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.), a member of the powerful Rules Committee, pleaded for non-partisan consideration of the question of how to keep America out of war.

He chided the Republicans for their obvious effort to make a political issue of the question. "We are trying," he said, "to save this country from becoming involved in a European war rather than trying to elect somebody to office in 1940."

He brought cheers from the entire House when he declared, "This is not a Republican or a Democratic country. This is a country of Americans for Americans."

Mr. Colmer expressed confidence that, on a question involving the significance that the neutrality legislation does, the membership would lay aside all partisan politics and consider the matter solely from a patriotic point of view.

Passing to the merits of the present neutrality legislation, Representative Colmer expressed the opinion that the new bill is a substantial improvement over the one passed by the House last spring. He pointed out that the new bill provides safeguards against the three things that, as history reflects, have been the chief causes of American wars—the sinking of American vessels, the loss of the lives of American citizens on the high seas, and the lending of American money to finance European wars. It was his opinion that these provisions were of much more importance, so far as keeping our country out of war is concerned, than the controversial question of whether the arms embargo shall be retained.

"I contend," Mr. Colmer said, however, "that neutrality is a state of mind between two or more parties and that it cannot be legislated by one of them. I believe that the best neutrality legislation that I have supported has been the millions of dollars of appropriations that have gone into the preparedness of this country so that the war lords of Europe will respect our neutrality."

Deaths

WELL-KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT NEW ORLEANS, AGED 78

Mrs. Virginia Harvey McGuire Buried Saturday Afternoon—Was Well Known.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Virginia Harvey McGuire, aged 78 years, a daughter of Colonel Joseph Hale Harvey, one of the builders of the Harvey intercoastal canal, died at her home, 7004 St. Charles avenue, New Orleans Friday morning of last week. Funeral services were conducted Saturday morning from a mortuary parlor on St. Charles avenue, with requiem mass at Holy Name of Jesus church; interment Metairie cemetery.

With her mother, Mrs. McGuire resided in Bay St. Louis for a period of over twenty years, a widow and residing here with her son, who was an outstanding student at St. Stanislaus college. Mrs. Harvey's mother built the home in which they lived, the present Dr. A. P. Smith dwelling on South beach, a structure that attracted considerable attention at the time from the fact it was built entirely of cypress and an outstanding type of that day.

Mrs. McGuire was noted in Bay St. Louis for her activity in Catholic church circles, a leader in all benefits and an ardent friend of the college. She was also affiliated with the best interests of Bay St. Louis and gave much of time and efforts to all civic enterprises. Her mother was Louise Destrehan Harvey, whose family founded the town of Destrehan, and her father, who was a native of Virginia, helped build the canal bearing his name.

The widow of Joseph E. McGuire, Mrs. McGuire is survived by a son, Edward McGuire of Belleville, Ill., and a sister, Mrs. Laura Harvey Seguin. A brother, Captain Horace Harvey of New Orleans, died last year.

Mrs. Mary H. Hariel Dies At Her Home At Sellers, Aged 73 Years.

Mrs. Mary Hutchinson Hariel, 73 years old, wife of the late Benjamin Hariel, died at her home in Sellers, on Sunday, October 22. Though Mrs. Hariel had been ill for some time her death was unexpected for she was only critically ill for two days. The funeral took place from her residence with services at the Crane Creek Baptist church, Revs. Z. A. Polk and W. C. Wyatt officiating. She was buried in the Crane Creek Cemetery.

Mrs. Hariel was born in Flat Top community near Poyune and had lived in Hancock county all of her life. She was one of the pioneer women of the county and always had a welcome for all who came to her home. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hariel; three sons, Henry, Mack and John Hariel, all of Sellers; 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She also leaves an invalid brother Thomas Hutchinson who made his home with her.

Leonard V. Ladner, Jr., Dies At New Orleans; Buried in Bay St. Louis.

A victim of pneumonia, Leonard V. Ladner Jr., beloved son of Leonard V. Ladner and his wife, Marius Ziegler, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ziegler, of Carroll avenue, Bay St. Louis, died at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, Sunday, November 5, at 10:15 o'clock p. m., native of New Orleans, aged 5 years, 11 months and 5 days.

Remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis and funeral took place Tuesday morning from Fahey Funeral Home, Union Street, with burial ceremony in the family burial plot at St. Mary cemetery, largely attended and many flowers marked the last resting place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ladner have the deepest sympathy of the community in the loss of this lovely personality just on the eve of his 6th birthday. A bright and lovable child his flight to the realms above leaves a vacant place in the home and in the hearts of his beloved ones.

Two children, in addition to the parents, survive, Marius and Clyde Ladner.

Cheerleaders Receive Satin Jacket Awards.

Six St. Stanislaus cheerleaders were awarded red jockey-satin jackets. The cheerleaders who received these awards are: Misses Ida Rose Tudury, Annabelle Arnold, and Natalie Buehler, from St. Joseph Academy; Dominick di Benedetto, James Heller and Robert Winn from St. Stanislaus.

There was need for the addition of another girl cheerleader, to balance the number between the boys and the girls. A charming little Sophomore from the convent volunteered for the position and was readily accepted. She is Miss Natalie Buehler.

The rooting and cheering at the games has greatly improved lately. New yells have been introduced. Brother Leonard, director, states: "The cheerleaders made a name among the greatest cheerleaders of the SSC, with their initial formation for a yell. There will be other novelties in future games." A special session in the grandstands was reserved for the students in which no adult is permitted. The advantage of this is that the cheering section is now together and can yell in unison. As it was before, it was very difficult for the cheerleaders to get good results from a scattered crowd.

Brother Leonard is gradually getting the results that he expected to get from the cheerleaders when he first started to train them. In the past two games, much favorable comment was obtained from Stanslaus fans upon the cheering of the student body.

PETITION FOR PARDON.

To His Excellency Honorable Hugh L. White, Governor of the State of Mississippi:

We, the undersigned officers, residents and citizens of the State of Mississippi, respectfully petition your excellency to pardon Julian Pucheu who pled guilty to a charge of burglary.

He pled guilty in the Circuit Court of Hancock County at the September, 1939 term, and sentenced to serve one year in the State Penitentiary. His term began about the latter part of September 1939.

Your petitioners would respectfully show to your excellency as follows:

That Julian Pucheu is a young man only twenty-one years of age and is not considered a bad boy. That he is the sole support of an aged crippled father and a mother who is dependent upon him. That he served two months in jail on said charge before being sentenced to the State Penitentiary.

That because of his tender age and responsibilities mercy should be shown.

We believe that Julian Pucheu has been punished sufficiently for the crime for which he was charged, and that executive clemency should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

CALL TO SUPPORT HUMANITARIAN ORGANIZATION.

In these crucial times, every American should be well acquainted with the wonderful work accomplished by the American Red Cross, and because of the greatly increased responsibilities at home and abroad, the Red Cross this year appeals for a great many more members. Last year the Red Cross emblem of mercy waved at the scene of 127 disasters in this country, bringing assistance to nearly 130,000 sufferers. Join during Roll Call this year, November 11 through 30, and keep you Red Cross ready. Wear your Red Cross button during the membership Roll Call and show your neighbors that you are patriotically supporting our great humanitarian organization.

As a pioneer in public health nursing in this country, the Red Cross has reached tens of thousands of needy ill in the past century. Last year Red Cross public health nurses made more than a million visits of mercy.

In 1928, 32,400 persons lost their lives on the highways of the country, and in order to assist in these hazards, the Red Cross established in 1935 its Highway Emergency First Aid Stations which has trained 2,000,000 first aiders and operates 3,362 first aid stations standing ready to treat the injured and to save the dying. One of these stations is located near your farm or home, and just at the head of the Chief Menteur Bridge and has helped materially in a number of serious accidents and helped save several lives by first aid and its telephone calls to New Orleans for ambulance and medical attention.

With a forty per cent increase in our own Army and Navy personnel voted by Congress, and because of the increased calls for assistance to alleviate suffering among the injured of war and to assist in bringing comfort to refugees and other non-combatants fleeing the dangers zones, join the Red Cross. Receive the members of the Roll Call committees with courtesy and make a special sacrifice to help in this greatest of all causes.

WEDDING AT ORLEANS. CLAIMS WIDE ATTENTION; GROOM LOCALLY KNOWN.

The following account of the Dugan-Welsh wedding at New Orleans Wednesday will be read with interest because of the beauty of the affair and the prominence of the contracting parties. Mr. Dugan, the groom, frequently visited Bay St. Louis and is a nephew of Mrs. J. W. Bryan, Mrs. H. P. Burbank, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. C. J. Chadwick and Mr. Fortune Jaubert.

The St. Louis Cathedral was the scene of one of the interesting weddings of the season when Miss Ruth Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Welsh, became the bride of Mr. Albert Francis Dugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Dugan, at Nuptial Mass at half-past ten o'clock. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bridal gown of ivory-colored duchess satin, fashioned on princess lines, with sweetheart neckline and a band of tiny seed pearls encircling the waist. Her veil of illusion was held closely to her head by a coronet of ruthless lace, worn by the groom's mother on her wedding day. She wore a cross necklace, the gift of the groom and carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book, with sprays of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Miriam Lais was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Misses Enola Bourgeois, Ida Krammer and Audrey Salzer. All wore similar frocks of blush rose taffeta made with hoop skirts and their hats were unusually attractive and dainty being made entirely of real flowers, the same shade as the pink chrysanthemums used in their old-fashioned bouquets.

Mr. Dugan had as his best man Mr. William G. McGuire, and the groomsmen were Mr. Edward J. Welsh, brother of the bride; Mr. Fortune A. Dugan, brother of the groom and Mr. Crawford Powell.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Maquada Place, where the numerous guests were entertained. Mrs. Welsh, mother of the bride, was receiving in a gown of black velvet. She was assisted by Mrs. Dugan, mother to the bridegroom, whose gown was of royal blue chiffon velvet. Both wore corsage bouquets of white gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana State Normal in Natchitoches. Mr. Dugan is a graduate of the college of engineering at Tulane university.

The bride chose as her goingaway outfit a smartly tailored French cognac woolen suit with fur jacket and brown accessories.

The young couple left on a wedding trip and later will go to Jackson, Mississippi, where they will reside.

There were a number of out-of-town guests for the wedding. From Bay St. Louis the guests included Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. H. P. Burbank, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau.

MRS. BRYAN'S LUNCHEON PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT OF NEW ORLEANS.

Mrs. John W. Bryan was hostess to a lovely luncheon at bridge party last Friday afternoon, complimenting Miss Betty Ricau, of New Orleans, whose forthcoming marriage to Mr. Lawrence Jaubert will be one of the social events of the month in that city.

The luncheon, given at Hotel Reed, was followed with card playing at Mrs. Bryan's home on North Beach.

The luncheon table was tastefully decorated with a center piece of seasonal cut flowers and trailing fern down the center of the table to the ends. At the house the decorations were early poinsettia and rose montana. A decoration of the luncheon table was a brides cake, with the bridal couple figures atop.

Attending this lovely affair were Mrs. Adolphe Bilet, Mr. Alfred Le Feune, Mrs. Gustave Ricau, Jr., Mrs. Adrian Schartzman, Miss Irene Morero, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. Edouard C. Carriere, Mrs. H. P. Burbank, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau and others.

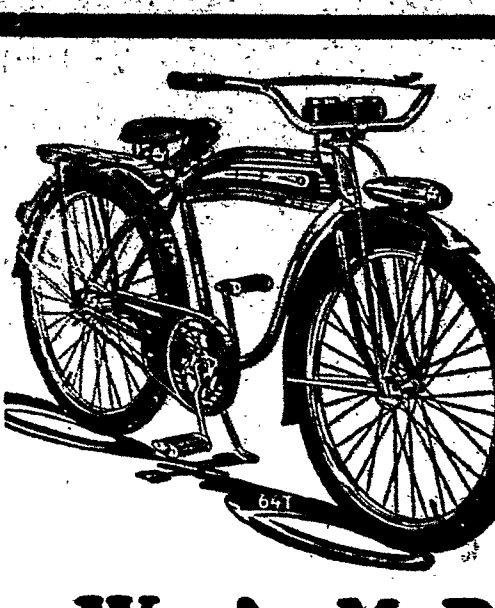

MRS. EDOUARD C. CARRERE ENTERTAINS AT ORLEANS.

Miss Betty Ricau, and Miss Margaret Denechaud who are being feted on all sides, were guests honorees of a luncheon given Wednesday afternoon of this week at New Orleans, at a smart St. Charles society rendezvous, Mrs. Edouard C. Carriere, of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, the hostess, who had as her guests practically the same as above with a small addition from the younger set. The guests from Bay St. Louis included Mrs. J. W. Bryan, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. H. P. Burbank, Mrs. Geo. R. Rea, Mrs. E. F. Fahey, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau.

Mrs. Carriere's party was a marked success and one of the bright events of the week in gay New Orleans, where the votaries of socialdom are accelerating with many events for the gay fall and winter season.

MAYOR AND MRS. BLAIZE ENTERTAIN DISTINGUISHED GUEST AT DINNER.

On Sunday, Mayor and Mrs. G. Y. Blaize entertained with their usual genial hospitality at a dinner for Mrs. Lou Ella Allen, National President of the Spanish-American War Veterans Auxiliary, at their home here. APPROACHING MARRIAGE OF MISS ETHEL BERTHELOT TO DR. W. O. ALLEN.

Bans announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Ethel Berthelot, to Dr. W. O. Allen, of Meridian, Miss., formerly of Bay St. Louis, are promulgated from the pulpit of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf. The happy event has been set for Saturday, November 18, in Bay St. Louis.

The bride-elect is a daughter of the late Joseph Berthelot, sugar planter of Houma, Ascension parish, La., and his wife the late Hattie Avery Berthelot; a grand daughter of the late Mrs. Annie E. Avery, versatile newspaper correspondent nationally known, of Bay St. Louis, and also a niece of Miss Josie E. Welch, also of this city, who died recently, and with whom Miss Berthelot had been making her home in order to care for her aunt in her declining years.

Miss Berthelot comes from a long line of ancestry of men and women noted for their Southern chivalry and prominent in belle letters.

Dr. Allen is well known locally, perhaps better to older residents, residing here some years back, the owner and operator of Allen's drug store (now Fahey's) and is prominently identified in the magic city of east Mississippi. Because of the prominence of both parties in Louisiana and Mississippi, the forthcoming marriage will claim wide attention in both states and elsewhere.

The couple plan to make their home in Meridian.
